LEGISLATIVE.

Two weeks of the present session of the Legislature have passed, and both Houses are ready for work. The time thus far has been occupied principally by the House and other Grangers in reply to newspaper attacks and in making numerous speeches upon "Reform."

It would be hard to find a member of that body who is not a reformer. Down with "Vandalism," is their battle cry, and if long and threatening speeches are any indication of what will be done hereafter.

Railroads and dishonest officials are in peril. The House is composed of a large majority of farmers, and can if they desire, pass any reforming measures. From present indications the difficulty seems to be in ascertaining exactly where to commence. The Grangers in their Messages have laid out a large amount of work, and it is wisdom and discretion govern their course, much good may yet be done before the close of the session.

Senator Ramsey has introduced a resolution into the Senate, instructing the committee on Foreign Relations to inquire into the expediency of advancing the rank of American Resident of Norway and Sweden to a first class mission. To increase the rank in this case is to increase the compensation. From $7,500 it would go up to $17,000 yearly. What is there in our relations with the countries calling for such a change? Cannot a $7,000 minister represent the republic as well as a $17,000 one? We trust the Senate will not be a party to the subject so that the necessity of the measure may more strongly impress itself on the public mind.

A petition is being circulated in Chaska asking for the repeal of the act exempting from taxation property used for religious and charitable purposes. It is asserted that the value of church property in Massachusetts is about $3,000,000, which at the average rate of taxation last year would have yielded over $350,000. A portion of this property, like that at Temple, is held under church organizations, while it is rented for all sorts of secular and profitable purposes.

The Railroad Strike.

The strike of railroad engineers, which was inaugurated on November 1, 1911, at the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and the Erie, Reading and the East and West, is at an end. On the Pittsburgh road and its connections the men have gone to work at the reduced wage of $1.00 per day and all passenger and freight trains are running as regularly as ever. On the Erie, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis roads passenger trains are regularly running, together with a few local freight trains. On the Erie Division of the Pennsylvania Road no freight trains, engineers, pilots, and other ferry hands are running. It is estimated that they have lost the reduction of 10 per cent. in their salaries. A committee from the engineers of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad waited on Mr. E.

The Vile du Havre investigation has resulted in the acquittal of Capt. Roher, who was charged with the murder of the Texas man, and the conviction of the other two men. The man who was charged with the murder of the Texas man, and the conviction of the other two men.

life, he discarded, or pretended to discard, the use of many of them. Buffaloes were spread far and carpet, and the men were left in pairs, each man using the bed. He had a printed poster upon the wall bearing the words, "This hour for retiring is 9 o'clock." The men were silent until the ship's lights withdrew when that hour arrived. But it was the popular belief that the rest of the less old warrior was in the habit almost nightly of pacing the floor until the dawn of morning before he sought repose upon his extemporized couch of skins.

There's in a name The ship Shalash, what's said in New York record, with Mr. Fechter as captain, together with the Undaunted Winter, "But," explained Mazed, "we do not know; he is as my brother; we are virtuous and decent."

"That may do to tell," sneered the woman.

Poor Mazed, poor green scarlet. He pined for her, poor little woman.

"If we live apart," she cried, "we shall starve. What shall we do?"

"Do! why go rnd, get married like other orderly people," answered the old woman.

"Oh, dear, we cannot marry," murmured Mazed.

"Then you must go to-morrow," was the answer.

Mazed pleaded and explained, but the old woman was inexorable. "Marry or go," was the only answer.

ity. The whole work has been done in less than a week, and it having been completed on July last. A dyke half a mile long is being built from the Illinois shore so as to insure a permanent channel through the draw.

PERHAPS one of the odd elections on record occurred at the last general election for members of the Illinois Assembly in Germany. A certain district had only one legal voter, who walked proudly up to the polls and voted for himself, the only eligible member in the district. But when his name was announced, he pompously arose, and said, "Messrs. Commissioners, I do not accept the election" and walked gravely off.

In addition, both the shampoos and the moist atmosphere at temperatures ranging from 105 to 117 degrees, in the case of the steamers, and in the case of over 300 degrees. On the Red Sea steamers the temperature of the stoke hold is 145 degrees. And yet, in none of these cases does any special form of type of disease develop itself.

The monument which Disraeli has erected to the memory of his wife bears the simple epitaph, "O dulcis conjux."

“savers” which were exposed at the shop floor of an ironing establishment in the room next to those occupied by Mr. Wood, a noted jeweler. He then stepped in front of Mr. Wood's store, and, with a request to some persons who were passing that they should keep their eyes peeled for “coal savers” being thrown through the window. The crash thus occasioned by the fall of these iron articles amidst the glass shelves of a jeweler's store attracted immediate attention, and the man was at once seized. In explanation of his conduct he said he was starving, that he had been refused admission to one of the workhouses, and that as he could obtain no food he wished to go to jail. He was then given into custody.

CHASKA THURSDAY JAN. 22 1874.

Capital Ideas and Notes.

St. Paul, Jan. 24th 1874.

Ed CHASKA HERALD:

Most any day (if it be not Saturday or Sunday nor Monday) if you will come down here and travel up Wabashaw street to the "big brick barn" you can see and hear some fun; For the solons (?) of our state most there, and try to make laws, in former years things have gone smoothly enough, and there has been little trouble for the dominant party to do just as it pleased, but now a change has come over the spirit of the dream, and Minnesota is in a fair way to be rescued from the hands of the philistians. Davis promises to be a governor for the people, and if it was not for his record, we might hope that he would;

but he knows his own interest he will be, but does he. Donnelly has been flinging retrenchment and reform around money cast, starting to save the state money by doing away with a chaplain, and thus saving $600, he has finally worked up to suppressing Normal schools, and cutting down printing bills so as to save many thousands.

While Donnelly is almost too radical and stands upon almost too independent a platform, (that of Ignatius Donnelly) his schemes will have a good effect although in many cases impracticable and impossible. The general temper of the legislation looks to reform, and the dominant party, which is now branded as a set of monopolists is trembling in its boots as "old probs" would say, looking in Minnesota for liberal currents from all points of the compass. Anti Monopoly rains from the west, cheapness drenches from the north, and showers of retrenchment and corruption blights from every where else, he prepared for a soothing storm of public opinion about next election.

3 to 1

Mort, Wilkinson, Sam. Beman, and

Ed. Donnelly everlastingly went for Joe.

Whigloof of the St. Paul Press today, they heaped on the most vehement vi-uperation called Joe a liar, coward, dirty dog, inhuman, monster &c &c, and the said Joe will probably "sass" them back. But seriously there has been but little to make a good sensible letter of as yet, so bear with me until next week and I will try to dish you up something lively and important.

THE NEWS.

The East.

Hon. EDWARD SALOMON, ex-Governor of Wisconsin, has appeared in the Supreme Court of New York in behalf of Baron von Rhaden, of Berlin, and made an argument on a motion preliminary to asking the court to set aside the decree of divorce obtained by his wife, popularly known as Madame Pauline Rhaden. The case is made complicated, owing to the fact that Madame Rhaden was married to one Von Wolfhohn soon after she obtained a decree of divorce from Baron von Rhaden. The Baron says he and his wife lived happily together until Von Wolfhohn, who was wounded about the same time as himself in the Franco-Prussian war, came to his home. The grocery store of George Alderton, a Saginaw City, Mich., was completely destroyed by the explosion of a can of powder on Friday. A daughter of Mrs. Alderton, fourteen years of age, was instantly killed, and Mr. A. was badly burned, but will probably recover. A clerk named Williams was also severely injured. The explosion was caused by a little girl putting lighted matches into a can of powder.

The case of ex-Senator Pomroy, charged with bribery, came for trial at Topeka, Kan., on Monday. He did not appear in person, but his attorneys made application for a continuance for thirty days, which was denied by the court, and his bail declared forfeited. Mr. Pomroy, however, has the privilege of appearing at any time during the present term of court for trial, when the forfeiture will be set aside and the case proceeded with. This is the case arising from the attempt of Pomroy to purchase a seat in the Senate by bribing Senator York and others.

The President, on January 8, sent a message to the Senate withdrawing the nomination of Attorney-General Williams for the position of Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, stating that the withdrawal is done at the request of Williams. The nomination of Col. Bristow for the position of Attorney-General is also withdrawn. The following is the letter of Williams asking the withdrawal of his name:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7, 1874.

To the President:

Sir:—You were kind enough, without my solicitation, or any knowledge on my part that you had conferred such a thing, to nominate me for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Since that time the flood-gates of calumny, in all directions, have been opened on me. My abilities have been disparaged, and my integrity brought in question, and it seems to me that public opinion adverse to my appointment has been created, which might hereafter embarrass my administration, and perhaps injure my usefulness upon the bench. With perfect consciousness that I have performed with clean hands, and upright purpose, all the duties of the various public offices to which I have been called, and trusting to time, and a just public opinion better informed for my vindication, I respectfully ask you to withdraw my nomination for Chief Justice.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, Yours, very truly,
GEO. H. WILLIAMS.

The President, on receipt of the above request, immediately complied with its requirements, and withdrew the name of Williams. Speculation was then busy as to who would be the next nominee. Senator Morton, Judge Rockwell Howe, Edwards Pierrepont, Judge Dillon, of Iowa, and Morrison Waite, of Ohio, were mentioned in connection with the place, but later events proved that all these speculations were wide of the mark. The President at a late hour on Friday gave notice that he would appoint to the position of Chief Justice Caleb Cushing, and also introduced a bill to amend the act relating to the appointment of Justices of the Supreme Court.

The New York Legislature met on January 6. Gov. Dix says in his message that the condition of the State to most of its aspects is very gratifying.

What the Wind-Elves Heard and Saw.

BY ERNEST H. MEXFORD.

The West Wind:

The subtlest sound that I ever heard Was the wailing plaint of a mother bird For the one who nestling that cheered her
And a mother who, for her poor boy's name, Died, with a thorn in its pretty breast.

The South Wind:

I have known a sight that was sadder still;
There's a grave upon yonder, upon the hill,
And a mother who, for her poor boy's name,
Died, with a thorn in its pretty breast.

The West Wind:

The sweetest sight that I ever knew,
Was the face of two lovers, whose love was true,
As they pledged themselves, come what or go, One path in life they would henceforth know.

The South Wind:

Once, when a weary old man died,
I saw Heaven's gate swing open wide,
And his wife, who an angel long had been,
Stretched welcoming hands and cried, "Dear,
And the look on her face!—I was dumb with awe—
A sight that was grander I never saw."

The West Wind:

Last night, when the stars were out in the blue,
Like a lead white lily kissed by dew,
I saw a baby of two short years
Wee with its mourning mother's tears.

The South Wind:

Once, when a weary old man died,
I saw Heaven's gate swing open wide,
And his wife, who an angel long had been,
Stretched welcoming hands and cried, "Dear,
And the look on her face!—I was dumb with awe—
A sight that was grander I never saw."

The West Wind:

Last night, when the stars were out in the blue,
Like a lead white lily kissed by dew,
I saw a baby of two short years
Wee with its mourning mother's tears.

COUNTY PHYSICIAN

In last week's Herald, which appeared in

"Herald" our friends Commissioners

Wessbecker, Barthel and Kohler make an attempt to defend their action in voting for one Haas as County Physician, but we can say to them they fall far short of a satisfactory explanation to the Tax Payers of the County, and what do they say? simply that their appointee has a large practice and is successful &c.

Now we do not believe that the gentle man composing the County Board, believe any such a thing. If they do, it is well, as no one else in the County does, and it is well known that he is not recognized by the members of the medical fraternity of this County or State as a Physician and positively refused to consult with him or have anything whatever to do with him. He is a member of no Medical School and is in no way a fit person to be trusted with the life of a human being. As to his "personal habits," we do not care to speak, as they are too well known by the community at large. We shall make no defence of Dr. Griffin, Lewis, Ames or Grant from the shoddy honorable Gentlemen cast upon them in their last weeks article, believing them capable of taking care of themselves, they certainly should resist the insult of being placed on a par with the County Physician. And now we wish to bring forth a certain "resolution" that was introduced by Commissioner L. H. Griffin or Patterson, immediately after Haas had been appointed, which will show in what estimation the present

County Physician is held by a portion of the County Board, and the public generally; here it is. Resolved, "That the salary of the County Physician be drawn by an agent to be appointed by this Board, whose duty it shall be to pay the same to his family (the Physician) from time to time as in his judgment they may require." And now let us ask you if the appointee had been a good respectable Physician and citizen, do you for a moment suppose that your associates upon the Board

Griffin and Patterson would have dared to introduce such a document as that, but enough of that. Let us ask the Hon.

Gentlemen Commr. Wessbecker, Barthel and Kohler, one more question and we are done. It is this, how is it that when Haas proposed in a written communication to the Board that it appointed he would do all the work and furnish medicines for $250 per year that you gave him $450, or the sum of $200, more than he asked? Please explain this to the numerous Taxpayers of the County. And if we rightly informed

Dr. Mead, a Physician recognized by all as in every respect competent, offered his services for $300, and Dr. Lewis made a proposition that each Commissioner should employ such a Physician to do the work in his District as he saw fit, to be paid twenty five cents a mile and furnish medicines which would have given these Gentlemen an opportunity to employ Haas and at the same time save the County in the neighborhood of $200 per year. But no, they are bound to have Haas, and pay him $200 more than he wants. We claim that you as public servants have no authority to waste public money in such a manner. With this we shall let the matter drop until some future time when we may have occasion to refer to the matter again.

New Road

A new road is being surveyed and will soon be opened between

Carver and Sioux City Junction by the way of Louisville. This is a much need-

Farmers and Laborers Society

Pursuant to call, which appeared in last week's Herald for the formation of a farmers and laborers society, a number of persons met at the house of J. M.

Schneider in Chanhassen, when it was resolved to meet in Chaska, when it re-convened, at the house of Peter Barthel.

Peter Barthel was called upon to presine protem.

On motion the said association was organized under the name of the "Farmers and Laborers Society. The 7th day of February next was fixed upon as the next day of meeting. A resolution was passed inviting the farmers and laborers of Chaska and Chanhassen to join said association on said day.
